

Week 1:

I Don't Have a Blind Spot, YOU Do

Questions

1. What illustration, story or scripture had the greatest impact on you this week?
2. When have you experienced a “done with that” moment? How did God help you move forward to have a new heart and attitude about the situation, sin or behavior?
3. Read James 4:6-10. Recall a time when pride kept you trapped in sin. How did God’s opposition to your pride help you make a change? Where have you seen embracing humility help you or someone else make a necessary change?
4. Pastor John talked about blind spots. The only way we know about them is when God or someone else reveals them. How do you handle feedback? Receiving it can make us better, how can you actively seek feedback and listen more effectively when it is shared with you?
5. What does it look like to submit yourself to God on a practical level?
6. Read Romans 7:15-20 slowly. Can you relate with Paul’s struggle with sin? When have you felt as if you experienced victory, won a battle, and were done with something—only later to have it resurface? Explain what contributed to this happening. How can you prevent it from happening again?
7. Read Genesis 3:6-13. When we sin, we experience shame, hiding, fear, and blaming as Adam and Eve did. Identify those experiences in the passage. Which of the four outcomes do you struggle with the most? What steps can you take this week to experience victory in this area?

Scripture References

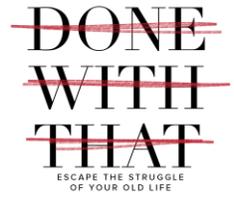

Read 2 Corinthians 5:17; Romans 8:13; James 4:6-7

Takeaways

- Humility before God allows me to see and solve my destructive blind spots.
- With humility before God:
 - You can see your own blind spots.
 - You realize how destructive your blind spots are.
 - You will stop blaming others for your behavior.
 - You will see God fix your blind spots.
- You either choose to humble yourself, or your consequences will force humility onto you.
- If you have the book “Done with That” by Bob Merritt, read Part One this week.
