

GROW UP

Sunday, June 13, 2021

We all need to learn so we can grow. When we love the subject matter, learning is enjoyable. I'm reminded of the Paul Simon song, "Kodachrome," when he recalled all the stuff he had to learn in high school and concludes, "... it's a wonder I can think at all." I remember intentionally trying to forget the material after some tests in college classes. In my immaturity, I thought it might waste space in my brain. It was trivial information to me. Since it had no application, I was not motivated. My spirit was not teachable in these classes. My attitude was, "What's the least amount of work I have to do to pass this class?" I believe "Humility is the essential virtue; pride is the essential vice." A teachable spirit opens doors to growth and opportunity. A teachable spirit unites. It recognizes that: I do not know it all. I need others to help me grow.

Not only do we need to learn, but we also need to teach. This philosophy aligns with our mission statement of Helping Others Follow Jesus. It's not enough just for us to follow Jesus, but we should be helping others follow, too. We can teach the scriptures to others in a wide variety of ways. Parents have a great opportunity to be teaching their kids. If we don't teach children God's Word, they will learn from other things that are often opposed to the teachings and tradition of the Christian faith.

APPLICATION:

What am I learning? Who or what am I learning from? How is it affecting me? Who am I teaching? Asbury has many opportunities to learn and to teach. The study, "Grow at Home: A Beginners Guide to Family Discipleship" by Winfield Bevins is recommended for families. Asbury is making these available to you for free.

NEW DISCIPLESHIP COMMUNITY

If you're a young adult who is single, engaged, or newly married without kids, join us on Sunday, June 27, 12:15 pm, Room 1504 for the launch of our newest Discipleship Community, Revive.

THE CLASS MEETING

A two-month study on the way the Methodist Church set up meeting with fellow Methodists. We will talk about small groups and how we can care for each other. We are hoping to launch a new Community from this class in this small group format, so we can add another option on Sunday mornings, beginning July 11.
